

Uzma, Xodus Integrated Offering Formalised

Oil and gas consulting companies Uzma and Xodus have signed a long-term regional collaborative agreement to offer integrated field development services.

Uzma Berhad provides geoscience and reservoir engineering, drilling project management and project and operations support from its headquarters in Malaysia and offices in Miri, Perth, Bangkok, Jakarta and Doha.

Perth-based Xodus specialises in consultancy services and production optimisation products that support the upstream oil and gas sector.

Uzma Managing Director and CEO Kamarul Muhamed said the combination would provide clients with a broad array of development solutions which would exploit extensive synergies throughout the Asia-Pacific region.

Uzma & Xodus agreed the collaboration was an important strategic step for both in developing new market penetration and potential growth areas. ■

Above (L–R): Uzma General Manager Yunus Talib, Xodus Executive Director Grant Veroba, Uzma Managing Director Kamarul Muhamed, Uzma Executive Director Khalid Embong and Xodus Executive Director Matthew Rawlings.