

Notes on recent developments in tin mining, Nakhon Si Thammarat province, South Thailand

R.F. Goninon, Faber Merlin Ltd., Thailand

The search for new tin deposits in peninsular Thailand has intensified, with considerable activity in Nakhon Si Thammarat province. Brief descriptions of past and present activity are given. The effect of this exploration effort on the search for other minerals is discussed.